From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated March 7.

Warsaw, February 22.

THE 19th the Congress sign'd the Act of Confederacy, and then proceeded to nominate 4 Deputies, to represent to the King of Sweden's Commissioners Horn and Wachslager, that seeing the Assembly had finish'd the Affairs they met about, they desir'd the Swedish Troops might be order'd to move off the Lands of the Confederates and raise no more Contributions; and that they the Commissioners would declare, when they would begin to treat with the Republick now free. The 20th those Deputies reported to the Assembly, that the Answer given them by the said Commissioners was, that they had dispatch'd an Express about it to the King their Master, and expected his Resolution; whereupon one of the Deputies could not forbear saying, that at that rate those Swedish Gentlemen were rather Correspondents than Commissioners, seeing they had no Power; and consequently that it would be the best way to send Deputies from among themselves to his Swedish Majesty, for his direct Answer. Then a Letter in Latin from the Czar of Muscovy was read, in which he declares that he will assist the King of Poland with all his Forces, pursuant to his Alliance; and that, to satisfy all Europe that he will do nothing but what is just, he had thought good to send a Copy of the same Letter to the Courts of the several Princes and States of Christendom. The 21st nothing considerable was done; The Cardinal was absent that day, as he was likewise the day before. A Resolution was pass'd to wait for the King of Sweden's Answer, and to nominate to day a Deputy out of each Palatinat and District, to compose a Council, and assist the Cardinal Primate with full Power. To day that Nomination was made accordingly, and it was resolv'd that his Eminency should be desir'd in the Name of the Congress, to get Orders from the Swedish Commissioners, expressly forbidding the Troops of that Nation to exact Contributions any longer, to procure the Liberty of some of the Polish Nobility who are kept Prisoners by the Swedes, and likewise to press the King of Sweden to declare positively what his further Intentions are. Lastly, Because of his Eminency's ill State of Health, they resolv'd the Assembly should for the future be held in his Palace.

By Letters from Cracow we are inform'd, that the King of Poland continues there, and that, being told what a Resolution the Confederates had pass'd against him, he said, they might in a little time be made to repent it.

The Cardinal and the rest of the Congress not thinking themselves safe enough here, have desir'd General Horn to send to 400 Swedish Foot and 200 Horse to advance hither, to guard this City.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated March 6.

Cracow, Feb. 20. The King, who return'd hither from Saxony the beginning of this Month, design'd to have gone to Sendomir and from thence to Russia; but his Majesty has alter'd his Resolution, and countermanded his Baggage which was already gone before. A Council of Senators has been held here, to whom the Under Chancellor, in the King's Name, made a very pathetic Speech, demanding their Advice, not only concerning the Confederates at Warsaw, who under the specious Pretext of reestablishing

Peace have pass'd Resolutions that are directly opposite to it and of dangerous Consequence, but likewise upon the Report that is spread of the Swedes having a Design to attack Czeszenkow. The Council unanimously agreed, that the Congress at Warsaw ought to be look'd upon as a private Conventicle, and consequently that the Resolutions they have taken are null and void: That the Army of the Crown should speedily be drawn together; and that Universalia should be dispatch'd, to summon the Nobility to mount on Horseback, which they should be warn'd to obey forthwith without waiting for a second Summons. 'Tis believ'd these Resolutions of the Council will be made publick to day or tomorrow. Some People are of Opinion, that the Resolutions taken by the Congress of the Confederates will not be put in Execution; the rather, because the lesser Nobility appear to be displeas'd with their Conduct.

Later Advices from Cracow say, that the Generals of the Army of the Crown are against the Dethroning of the King; that the Palatinats of Sendomir and Cracow are resolv'd to continue faithful to his Majesty; that 'tis not doubted other Palatinats will follow their Example; That his Majesty is in daily Expectation of great Succours from Muscovy; and that the Letter written by the Czar to the Confederates has had a good Effect upon many of the Nobility in favour of his Polish Majesty.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated March 4.

Nimes, Feb. 15. The 8th the Camisars came to Generargues, where they committed some Disorders and carried off 8 Persons. The 9th some Parties of them came into the Neighbourhood of this Place and kill'd several Peasants whom they found at work in the Vineyards; And the next day the dead Bodies were brought into this Town and interr'd. The same day our Governour receiv'd a Letter from their Leader Cavalier, in which he told him, that if 2 Party Leaders of ours, viz. le Fevre and l'Hermite continued to put any more new Converts to the Sword, the Camisars would revenge their Death on all the Old Catholics who should fall into their Hands, and would take an opportunity to burn the Suburbs of this Town. The Assembly of the Estates of Languedoc being broken up, the Marshal de Montrevel came hither the 12th and went from hence yesterday to Sommieres. The 13th the Sieur Julien arriv'd at Luffan, where he was not expected. Yesterday in the Morning, he order'd all the Inhabitants to appear before him, and caus'd 46 young Men of them, able to bear Arms, to be seiz'd, and they are brought hither. He has order'd all the Farriers, Smiths, Barber-Surgeons, and Shoemakers, to leave the Neighbouring Villages to come and live in that Town, and to work for no body but those whom the Council shall approve. The said Monsieur Julien has caus'd all the Mills to be burnt, and all the Ovens in the said Villages to be spoil'd, from Alais to Ganges.

Nimes, Feb. 22. The Project form'd by the Marshal de Montrevel, to extirpate the Camisars and their Adherents, began to be executed the 19th instant. Monsieur de Planque had Orders before to ruine all the Mills and Ovens in the Villages of the Upper Sevelles, and then to oblige the Peasants to retire into the nearest great Towns. Some obey'd, but others were unwilling to remove from their ancient Dwellings, whereupon they were put to the Sword without Mercy, to the number of between 5 and

3 and 600 Persons. After this terrible Execution, the Marshal de Montrevel set out from Sommieres, at the head of 2000 Men: He had given Order to Messieurs de la Lande, Julien, and Marcellin, to march at the same time different ways, each with 2000 Men. These 4 Bodies will scour the Country for 15 days; and there are other Detachments in divers places where the Camisars used frequently to pass. All the Peasants that are found in the open Country will be treated as Rebels. This has oblig'd the Camisars to divide themselves into several Bodies likewise, to prevent being surrounded; and they constantly put to Death all the Old Catholics they meet. So that between both a great deal of Blood is daily spilt.

††† A Doctor in Phylick, Cures all the Degrees, and Indispositions, in Venereal Persons; and by a most easie, safe, and expeditious Method: He likewise gives his Advice in all Diseases, and Prescribes a Cure. Dr. Harborough (a Graduate Physician) in Great Knight-Riders-Street, near Doctors-Commons.

THIS is to give notice, that there is one has lately found out an effectual Remedy for curing the Gravel, which it performs far beyond any Medicine ever yet made use of; for tho' Tippin's Water (which has obtain'd so much doth indeed upon the taking of it, bring away some Gravel, yet the pain returns again, and the Patient remains uncured; but this not only relieves for the present by bringing away Gravel, and causing the Patient to make Water plentifully, where there is any stoppage of Urine, but it wholly takes away the cause, and perfectly cures the Patient, and that in a very short time. Note, This is no Invention to impose upon credulous People to get their Money, but a real Truth, as any one will find it to be, that will make tryal of it, which they may do for five Shillings charge, it never having fail'd yet curing every one that has taken it. It is to be had only of Mr. Rogers Bookseller at the Sun against St. Dunstan's Church in Fleet-street, at 5 s. a Paper, which is generally enough for any one to take, unless they be very bad, and in that case they must take two Papers.
